Major National, Conference and Institutional Academic Awards

NCAA Today’s Top 10 Award
Regarded as the nation’s most prestigious academic award, Nebraska has a nation-leading 17 recipients of the Top 10 Award. To be nominated, students must have exhausted their athletic eligibility. The award is based on the criteria of athletic achievement, academic achievement and community involvement.

Academic All-Americans
Nebraska’s rich tradition of academic excellence is solidified on the national level through the University’s dominance of the CoSIDA Academic All-America Award. Nebraska leads the nation in this prestigious honor.

To be considered for the award, student-athletes must be sophomore status or above, maintain a minimum 3.30 cumulative grade-point average, be a team starter or key reserve and be active in the community.

A Night at the Lied
The athletic department celebrates student-athlete excellence in athletics, academics and service at “A Night at the Lied” held annually in April. The event, which celebrated 27 years in 2017, is a result of an endowment created by Dick and Dale Herman. Student-athletes who have completed at least one year of school can earn a bronze, silver or gold medallion based on either their cumulative grade-point average at the end of the semester preceding the event, or their grade-point average earned during the previous calendar year.
Herman Team Grade-Point Average Awards
The Herman Team Grade-Point Average Awards are presented to the one men’s and one women’s team with the highest team cumulative grade-point average in the previous calendar year. Nebraska’s male and female Student-Athletes of the Year are announced at the event in addition to recognizing the single men’s and women’s team with the highest point total in the year-long Life Skills Team Competition.

NU Male and Female Student-Athletes of the Year
Honored annually at “A Night at the Lied,” faculty members from the Intercollegiate Athletic Committee vote on and select one male and one female student-athlete each year.

Criteria for nomination include candidates being enrolled in the academic year in which the final season of athletic eligibility occurs; having a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.30; performing with distinction in a varsity sport; and acting both on and off the field in a manner that has brought credit to the student-athlete, the institution and intercollegiate athletics.

Outstanding Scholar Award
Awarded annually at “A Night at the Lied” to student-athletes in their final season of athletic eligibility or enrolled in their final hours for the May graduation following the awards show and who have maintained a cumulative GPA of 3.90 or above.

Academic All-Big Ten
The Big Ten Conference recognizes student-athlete achievement in several ways, including Academic All-Big Ten and Big Ten Distinguished Scholar Awards.

To be eligible for Academic All-Big Ten honors, student-athletes must be letterwinners who are in at least their second academic year at their institution and carry a cumulative grade-point average (GPA) of 3.0 or higher.

Big Ten Distinguished Scholar Award
At the conclusion of each academic year, the Big Ten announces its Distinguished Scholar Awards. To be eligible, student-athletes must be letterwinners in their second year of residence and carry a GPA of 3.7 or higher for the current academic year, excluding summer school.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Drew Wiseman and Tierra Williams were selected as the 2016-17 Nebraska Student-Athletes of the Year and Big Ten Medal of Honor winners. Wiseman was a four-time All-American and first-team Academic All-American, while Williams is a six-time All-American and Big Ten Distinguished Scholar.

Herman Team Grade-Point Average Awards

Big Ten Distinguished Scholar Award

Outstanding Scholar Award

Academic All-Big Ten

Top: The Husker swimming and diving team won the Herman Team GPA Award for women with a 3.578 team GPA.

Bottom: The Husker men’s gymnastics team won the Herman Team GPA Award with a 3.480 team GPA.
Big Ten Medal of Honor
The conference’s most exclusive award was the first of its kind in intercollegiate athletics to recognize academic and athletic excellence. The Big Ten Medal of Honor was first awarded in 1915 to one student-athlete from the graduating class of each university who had “attained the greatest proficiency in athletics and scholastic work.” Big Ten schools currently feature more than 9,500 student-athletes, but only 28 earn this prestigious award on an annual basis. The Medal of Honor was expanded in 1982 to include a senior female student-athlete from each institution.

Postgraduate Scholarships
Postgraduate scholarships are also available to those who wish to pursue advanced degrees. To apply, student-athletes must be in their final season of athletic eligibility along with meeting additional academic, athletic and service requirements. To learn more about available postgraduate scholarships, contact the Nebraska Life Skills Department.

Sam Foltz 27 Hero Leadership Award
Held annually every April at the Lied Center for Performing Arts, student-athletes have the opportunity to be recognized for their commitment to community service and leadership throughout the year. The Sam Foltz 27 Hero Leadership Award is presented to the top 27 student-athlete leaders who provided outstanding leadership and community service. The Heart and Soul Award is bestowed upon senior student-athletes who have been passionate about service and leadership from day one as a freshman through their senior year. Student-athletes who complete a minimum of six new service projects within the academic calendar year, while maintaining good academic and athletic standing, earn a spot on the prestigious Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.
Recognition Events
There is often confusion concerning the types of recognition events that are allowable, as well as what travel expenses you may accept in connection with various types of recognition. Before traveling to any such event, seek approval from the Life Skills staff.

Promotion or Charitable Benefit Appearances
According to NCAA regulations, student-athletes may make promotional appearances under certain conditions. All requests for such appearances must be approved by the Compliance Office.

As a prerequisite to approval, the student-athlete and an authorized representative of the organization requesting the appearance must sign a waiver ensuring that the student-athlete’s name, image or appearance is used in a manner consistent with NCAA guidelines.

In addition, a student-athlete is not allowed to miss class in order to participate in the activity. Please direct any such requests to the Athletic Compliance Office at 472-2042 before proceeding.

Media Appearances
Part of the benefit of being associated with Nebraska is the extensive media attention received by the department. The public is very interested in the intercollegiate athletic activities at Nebraska, and it is from these interested alumni and fans that the University receives much of its support for our athletic program.

Interacting with the print and electronic media gives student-athletes the opportunity to develop communication skills that can be helpful in future professional, business and athletic careers.

Interviews
Never agree to an interview unless arrangements have been coordinated through the Athletics Communications Office.

This policy will help student-athletes avoid contact with unauthorized people who may attempt to gain and use information for gambling or scouting purposes. The Athletics Communications Office will let you know when to expect authorized contact from media and other related individuals.

The Athletics Communications Office will not give out student-athletes’ home or cell phone numbers without their permission.

Press Conferences
As a member of a Nebraska athletic team, student-athletes may be asked to be available to larger media groups, provided that attendance does not conflict with class schedules. If an individual player is being honored, every effort is made to have that player present. Student-athletes may also be asked to speak with the media after practice or a game, as pre-arranged by your coach and the Athletics Communications Office.

Please note that the locker rooms, weight rooms, Student Life Complex and training rooms are off-limits to the public. This includes media.

Dealing with the Media
When dealing with the media, you are urged to exercise care when making statements.

The longer student-athletes are on a team, the more likely they will develop personal relationships with some of the media representatives regularly covering the team. While positive relationships are encouraged, regardless what is said, a reporter’s first obligation is to report the news. Don’t say it if you don’t want to see it in print or on television.

If your team receives regular media attention, a member of the Communications staff will hold a briefing to give you media relations suggestions before the beginning of your playing season. At that time, you will be given a handout that will help you deal with the news media.
ATHLETIC SUPPORT

Athletic Support
The following organizations build enthusiasm and support for Nebraska’s athletic program. Let them know you appreciate their efforts.

Nebraska Spirit Squad
As fellow students, the Cheer Squad and Scarlets Dance Team work hard to support Nebraska athletics, the University and the community. These students train and perform year-round supporting Nebraska on the sideline and at philanthropic events, making nearly 200 public appearances a year.

Spirit Squad members are selected through a tryout process in the spring of the academic year. They are chosen based on their technical skill, academic profile, fitness/health, positive spirit and overall potential for contribution.

The University of Nebraska mascots, Herbie Husker and Lil’ Red can be found at numerous athletic and community events generating excitement and school spirit alongside the cheerleaders and dancers. These fun-loving mascots are a hit for fans of all ages.

Bands
By stirring the crowd with rousing fight songs, the Cornhusker Marching Band and Big Red Express (pep band) are an important part of each athletic event in which they participate.

Student-Athlete Experience
The primary mission of Nebraska Athletics is to provide all student-athletes with the resources and support they need to be successful in academics, athletics and life. The health, safety and welfare of our student-athletes is at the heart of every action we take and we thank our fans for their incredible support. As a direct result of the amazing support from our season ticket holders and donors, Nebraska is well-positioned to continue its mission of providing the absolute best student-athlete experience in all of college athletics.

Nebraska has always been a national leader in support resources and services for student-athletes. We lead the way in academics and life skill support systems, facilities and staffing, as well as having a first-of-its-kind performance laboratory. The Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) is a world-leading research and education center designed to enhance the performance, safety, health and well-being of our student-athletes. Nebraska was also one of the first institutions to offer an athletic training table plus a strength and conditioning program to all student-athletes.

Nebraska Athletics is one of the very few self-sustaining intercollegiate athletic programs in the country and does not receive any university subsidies or state tax dollars. Therefore, our donor support by alumni, fans, and friends of athletics is vital, enabling Nebraska Athletics to continue to invest in the student-athlete experience. All contributions go directly toward enriching the student-athlete experience through scholarships, academics and life skills, sports medicine, nutrition, team travel, recruiting, and strength and conditioning. Alumni, letterwinners, friends, parents, and fans can make contributions to any of the 24 varsity teams listed below. For more information, contact Mattie Fowler at 472-2714 or mfowler@huskers.com.

2017-18 STUDENT-ATHLETE HANDBOOK
ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The University of Nebraska Department of Athletics offers a comprehensive academic support program that is integrated with other campus resources. Specific academic support services available to all student-athletes focus on their transition, retention and graduation. Services are administered by 14 full-time staff members and approximately 75-100 tutors. The full-time staff includes a director, two associate directors, four academic counselors, three learning specialists, two assistant academic counselors, an administrative assistant and a computer technician. The director has a direct reporting line to both the Faculty Athletics Representative and the Director of Athletics.

The Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex offers Nebraska’s student-athletes a 50,000 square foot complex that is open for use over 120 hours each week. Within the Herman Student Life Complex, six interrelated centers provide a variety of resources to student-athletes: the Hewit Academic Center; the DJ Sokol Enrichment Center; the Scott Technology Center; the Abbott Life Skills Center; the Papik Compliance Center, and the Lewis Training Table.

Nebraska’s academic support program has been certified by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) as meeting the standards established by the N4A. In addition, the University of Nebraska Faculty Senate Intercollegiate Athletics Committee conducts annual reviews of specific components of the academic support program or other academic topics current in intercollegiate athletics.

Academic Monitoring

The primary responsibility of each member of the academic support staff is to access available services and resources to develop tailored plans with student-athletes while monitoring academic progress to maximize academic achievement and opportunity for graduation. One or more members of the academic support staff is assigned to each team.

Academic support staff monitor and provide assistance with NCAA initial eligibility and University of Nebraska admissions to prospective student-athletes. Academic support staff work in conjunction with university advisors to assist student-athletes with major exploration, course registration, and an understanding of university, Big Ten Conference, and NCAA academic rules and policies.

The Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex tripled the size of the Student Services space available for Husker student-athletes when it opened in 2010.
ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

Academic progress is monitored each semester through frequent meetings with individual student-athletes and supplemented by academic progress reports from instructors. Academic progress reports are sent electronically to the instructors of all student-athletes three times each semester. Course instructors typically comment on attendance, class participation and estimated grade. This information is utilized to determine additional services and resources that may be beneficial.

Academic support staff review the progress toward graduation and NCAA progress-toward-degree requirements for athletic eligibility on an ongoing basis. The Assistant Registrar for Athletic Certification is consulted regularly to review the eligibility certification of student-athletes.

Finally, academic support staff refer and make student-athletes aware of numerous University of Nebraska campus resources.

Academic Services

Orientation
All new student-athletes are required to attend an orientation at the beginning of their academic career. Student-athletes are introduced to staff, faculty, administrators and a variety of resources that will help facilitate the transition into college while enhancing awareness of support services in the Department of Athletics and across campus. The student-athlete orientation is provided in addition to other new student orientation/enrollment programs offered by the University of Nebraska.

Educational Assessments
Informal and formal educational assessments are administered to student-athletes upon request from a student-athlete or recommendation from an academic support staff member, coach or faculty member. Learning specialists are available to administer and score informal assessments, which include a reading comprehension and a writing assessment. When more in-depth assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete meets criteria for a learning disability or another medical condition that impedes the student’s ability to reach their academic potential, appropriate accommodations are implemented by the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Mentoring
Academic support staff serve as mentors to all incoming student-athletes and a select group of returning student-athletes. Student-athletes in the mentoring program meet with their mentor weekly to develop time management skills, gather and report academic progress information, and discuss academic success strategies.

Tutorial Support
Student-athletes have access to both individual and group tutoring. Tutorial sessions are designed to guide the student to learn and achieve within the course content, develop study skills, promote independent learning, encourage academic success, and improve student retention. Additionally, writing consultants trained by the University of Nebraska English Department are available to assist student-athletes. The tutorial program is certified as a model tutoring program by the College Reading and Learning Association (CRLA). CRLA certification requires that each tutor receive extensive training, which includes instruction regarding relevant NCAA rules, tutorial policies and procedures, information regarding academic ethics and honesty, and individual tutor annual evaluations.

Study Hall
Academic support staff determine which student-athletes are required to attend study hall based upon test scores, class rank, grade-point average, probation status, present class schedule, and past academic record in addition to consulting with coaches. Student-athletes are required to complete a designated amount of study time in a supervised environment located within the DJ Sokol Enrichment Center.

Computer Resources
The Herman Student Life Complex has two computer labs available for student-athletes. The Scott Technology Center features two tech tables for use on group computer projects and group study sessions. New laptops are provided to all student-athletes for use during their academic career at Nebraska.

Conduct Rules Sources
The department requires coaches, trainers and staff to conduct themselves in a way that creates a positive image of the people, values and traditions associated with the University, the Big Ten Conference and the NCAA. As a student-athlete, you are expected to uphold the same standards of conduct, including academic honesty, that have been adopted by the department and the University.

You may access the complete text of the student code of conduct and disciplinary procedures at the following site: http://stuafs.unl.edu/dos/code

Additionally, the department of athletics has developed an internal code of conduct to which student-athletes must adhere. These policies and procedures will be reviewed with and provided to student-athletes annually.

Discrimination and Harassment
The University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive work and learning environment free from discrimination and harassment. UNL is dedicated to creating an environment where everyone feels valued, respected and included. UNL does not discriminate on the basis of race, ethnicity, color, national origin, sex (including pregnancy), religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, veteran’s status, marital status, and/or political affiliation in its programs, activities and employment. Relationship Violence and Acquaintance Rape
Acquaintance rape and relationship violence are topics of concern. Sexual intercourse against a person’s will or when that person is unable to give consent is rape.

Relationship violence is targeted at someone you date, co-habitate with, are married to or with whom you have a child. It involves a range of behaviors, including not only physical violence but verbal and emotional abuse, terroristic threats and stalking.

The Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance provide support services for victims of these crimes and work with the UNL community to challenge the beliefs and ideas that perpetuate them. They offer presentations and workshops to help you and your team members become leaders in making UNL a safe place for women. Contact the Women’s Center at 472-2597 to schedule a presentation. If you are concerned that your behavior in a relationship may be abusive, contact Counseling and Psychological Services at 472-7450 for confidential assistance.

UNL encourages any person subjected to sexual misconduct to report the conduct to law enforcement (911 or UNLPD 472-2222) and to the University’s Title IX office, 472-3417. There are several reporting options available to you that can be found at unl.edu/equity/reporting. Additionally, there are a multitude of resources offered at UNL for any person seeking assistance and support regarding sexual misconduct. For a list of law enforcement contacts and a comprehensive list of confidential resources, go to unl.edu/equity/getting-help.

Misuse of Prescribed or Non-Prescribed Drugs or Use of Illegal Drugs
Drugs often produce behavioral, physical and psychological changes. Their use can cause problems not only for you, but for your teammates as well. Understanding the effects of drug abuse, problems associated with drug abuse and options for counseling and rehabilitation will be addressed.

Alcohol Abuse
State law sets a minimum age for the purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages at 21 years of age. Even after reaching 21 years of age, student-athletes are prohibited from drinking alcoholic beverages when traveling with or representing their teams. Additionally, alcoholic beverages are not to be consumed while attending athletic or athletically sponsored events. Reported violations will be investigated by the department and appropriate action will be taken.

If you believe you have an alcohol abuse problem, talk to your coach, the trainer of your sport, the University Health Center, or Counseling and Psychological Services (15th and U Streets) for assistance or information on alcohol and chemical abuse. Dr. Albers and Dr. Haskell with Nebraska Athletic Medicine and Psychological Services can be reached by calling 472-2278. All counseling, both within and outside the department, is confidential. The Counseling and Psychological Services office can be reached by calling 472-7450 or by visiting health.unl.edu/caps.

A dangerous weapon shall include guns, knives, explosives, or any other device defined by statute or as determined by the University, which in the manner used or intended is capable of producing death, harm to person or property, or bodily injury. Violation of this policy shall make the offender subject to appropriate disciplinary or legal action.

In order to maintain and protect the health and safety of UNL property or persons on UNL property, persons who are neither UNL employees nor students who are found to be in possession of a dangerous weapon on UNL property may be subject to immediate seizure of the weapon by the University of Nebraska Police Department and removal from campus. Seized property not held as evidence in an investigation will be returned to the person upon exiting UNL property.

Social Media

Student-athletes should know and be made aware that third parties including the media, faculty, future employers and NCAA officials can and do access their profiles and view personal information. This includes pictures, videos, comments and posts. Inappropriate material found by third parties negatively impacts the perception of the student, the Athletic Department and the University. This can be detrimental to a student-athlete’s current eligibility and future employment opportunities.

For your own safety and benefit, please keep the following recommendations in mind as you participate in social networking websites:

- Set your security settings so that only your friends can view your profile.
- You should not post your email, home address, local address, telephone number(s), current location or other personal information, as it could lead to unwanted attention, such as stalking or identity theft.
- Be careful about who you add as “friends.” Only grant friend status to people you know firsthand.
- Consider how your postings may be perceived. Perception is often assumed to be reality.
- Utilize your networks to positively impact the brand/reputation of who you are and everything you represent or stand for.
NCAA Compliance and the Principle of Ethical Conduct

To participate in intercollegiate athletics, student-athletes must maintain athletic and academic eligibility. Your coach, academic counselor, the Compliance staff, the Academic staff, the Director of Athletics, the Faculty Athletics Representative, and the Chancellor work together to ensure adherence to all NCAA and Big Ten Conference regulations regarding your eligibility.

Though NCAA and Big Ten Conference rules may seem complicated, they ensure that all teams and student-athletes play according to the same rules, with no team having an unfair competitive edge. Great effort is made by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) administration to see that you and all staff members are familiar with these rules and understand that any deviation from them, whether knowingly or through ignorance, is not condoned by the Department of Athletics or UNL.

All student-athletes are required to conduct themselves in an ethical manner in compliance with NCAA and Big Ten Conference regulations, and risk losing eligibility to compete if he or she evade or violates those regulations. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to, withholding information, providing false information, and providing misleading information.

The following sections are intended to reinforce the rules and requirements that have been discussed during your meetings with the Compliance staff. These sections are not intended to be all-inclusive. If you have any questions regarding NCAA, Big Ten, or UNL rules and regulations, please contact a member of the Compliance staff.

Academic Misconduct

Per NCAA rules, a student-athlete shall not be involved in academic misconduct:

1. Involving a current or former institutional staff member or representative of athletics interests (e.g., donor, fan, booster etc.);

2. Without the involvement of a current or former institutional staff member or representative of athletics interests, that results in:
   a) An erroneous declaration of eligibility to participate in intercollegiate athletics and the student-athlete subsequently competes for the institution while ineligible;
   b) An erroneous declaration of eligibility to receive financial aid and the student-athlete subsequently receives financial aid while ineligible; or
   c) The erroneous awarding of an Academic Progress Rate (APR) point; or

3. Involving the alteration or falsification of a student-athlete’s transcript or academic record.

In addition, a current or former institutional staff member or a representative of an institution’s athletics interests shall not provide impermissible academic assistance to a student-athlete.

Impermissible academic assistance is defined as:

1. Substantial assistance that is not generally available to an institution’s students and is not otherwise expressly authorized in Bylaw 16.3, which results in the certification of a student-athlete’s eligibility to participate in intercollegiate athletics, receive financial aid, or earn an Academic Progress Rate point; or

2. An academic exception that results in a grade change, academic credit or fulfillment of a graduation requirement when such an exception is not generally available to the institution’s students and the exception results in the certification of a student-athlete’s eligibility to participate in intercollegiate athletics, receive financial aid, or earn an Academic Progress Rate point.

Academic Eligibility

Gambling

NCAA rules strictly prohibit Athletic Department staff members and student-athletes from engaging in sport wagering activities. We hope that you will never be approached in an attempt to involve you in a gambling or bribery situation. However, on some campuses in the past, student-athletes have become involved with organized gambling operations. The results of this involvement have been both severe and tragic, not only for the individual but for the entire Department of Athletics. Gambling is one of the major sources of revenue for organized crime. Be aware that the gambling industry is constantly seeking sources of information because operators use inside information to set the betting line or odds. It is possible that you may be approached and questioned about the condition and attitude of teammates. As a student-athlete, you may be asked to alter a game in some manner and be offered favors or gifts for doing so. If this occurs, you are required to report the incident and question to your coach or the Compliance staff immediately. UNL and the Athletic Department are committed to combating all forms of gambling and bribery. An attempt to procure information through bribery of a sports participant is a felony. You should keep in mind that the consequences at the institutional level may be expulsion, and that UNL will assist with the enforcement of any and all federal, state and local gambling and anti-bribery regulations.

NCAA Gambling Restrictions
1. It is not permissible for you to place or accept a wager on any sport, at any level, in which the NCAA hosts a championship, in bowl subdivision football, and in emerging sports for women.
2. Impermissible gambling occurs when you place a wager or accept a wager of money or anything of value for a chance to win something.
3. Gambling prohibition includes sporting events at the professional, college, and amateur (e.g. high school, youth team) levels.
4. It is not permissible for you to knowingly provide information concerning intercollegiate athletic competition to individuals involved in organized gambling activities.
5. It is not permissible for you to accept any benefits from individuals (e.g. meals, presents, money), in exchange for supplying information or for attempting to alter the outcome of any contest.

NCAA Gambling Examples
1. It is not permissible to enter an NCAA Tournament Bracket Challenge that requires an entry fee.
2. It is not permissible to enter a Super Bowl pool that requires an entry fee.
3. It is not permissible to participate in an online fantasy league that requires an entry fee.
4. It is not permissible to use sites like Draft Kings or Fan Duel.

Gambling Penalties
Impermissible gambling under NCAA rules will result in a loss of eligibility. It is also important to be aware of the legalities of gambling from an institutional, state and federal level. Understand that the consequences at the institutional level may be expulsion, and that UNL will assist with the enforcement of any and all federal, state and local gambling and anti-bribery regulations.

Eligibility for Practice and Competition

Student-athletes are ineligible for practice or competition if any of the following events occur:

1. You become enrolled in less than 12 credit hours (less than 9 credit hours if in graduate school), unless you are in the last semester of your undergraduate degree and in your final hours for the completion of your degree;
2. Your registration or admission is canceled; or
3. You withdraw from UNL.

Medical Hardship

A medical hardship is defined as an incapacitating injury or illness that occurs during the first half of the season before you have participated in more than three events or 30 percent of the events in your sport, whichever number is greater. Medical hardship waivers are reviewed by the Big Ten Conference medical subcommittee. The Compliance staff will file the medical hardship waiver on the student-athlete’s behalf.

Recruiting

Hosting Recruits (Prospective Student-Athletes)

Student-athletes serving as hosts for recruits are an official representative of UNL, as well as the Athletic Department. As such, the student host is expected to exhibit appropriate conduct and behavior at all times. It is the responsibility of the student host to know and to understand the following guidelines. The student host should consult his or her coach and the Compliance staff when questions or concerns arise while hosting a recruit.

Boosters, Alumni and Fans

A recruit may not have contact with a booster, alumni or any fan of any UNL athletic team. It is the responsibility of the student host to ensure that such contact does not occur when entertaining a recruit.

Contact and Communication with Recruits

Student-athletes may be involved in the following activities with recruits at any time, provided it is not done at the direction of a coach or staff member.

1. In-person, off-campus contacts; and
2. Any form of written correspondence other than public recruiting messages.

Entertainment

A maximum of $40.00 per day may be provided to the student host to cover the entertainment expenses of the host, multiple hosts, the recruit and up to four family members accompanying the recruit. The cost of meals and admission to campus athletic events is excluded from this allowance. These funds may not be used to purchase or otherwise provide the recruit with gifts (e.g. clothing, souvenirs or memorabilia items). No cash may be given to the recruit or anyone else accompanying him/her on the visit.

All entertainment of a recruit must occur within a 30-mile radius of campus. It is the responsibility of the student host to ensure that the recruit abides by this limitation. Never allow a recruit to use a vehicle during a campus visit.

Recreational Activities

Recruits may participate in physical workouts or other recreational activities during a campus visit provided such activities are not organized or observed by the coaching staff and are not designed to test the athletic ability of the recruit.

Prohibited Activities

A student host should report the occurrence of any of the activities listed below to the head coach. The following activities are strictly prohibited:

1. Alcohol and drug use, including underage consumption of alcohol or any other activities that violate federal, state or local laws;
2. Gambling or sport wagering activities;
3. Sexually related activities, including the use of escorts, exotic dancers or strippers; and
4. Sexual harassment, including verbal slanders or physical improprieties.

Penalties

Serving as a student host is a privilege and has several benefits that complement the duties and responsibilities of being a host. Actions or incidents that are contrary to the Student Host Guidelines may result in a decision by UNL to deny the admission of or financial aid award to a recruit. Additionally, a student host may be penalized in ways that include dismissal from his or her team or loss of scholarship.

Transferring

The NCAA and Big Ten have rules regarding transfer eligibility. Consult a member of the Compliance staff to obtain information about transfer rules.

Intra-Conference Transfer

A student-athlete transferring to UNL from another Big Ten Conference institution will be subject to one year of academic residence and charged with one season of competition if receiving athletic aid at UNL.

Transferring from UNL

If you would like to speak with any other four-year institution, you must have permission from UNL to contact those institutions.

If you are considering transferring from UNL, please take the following steps:

1. Speak with your head coach;
2. Contact the Compliance staff to understand and ask any questions about the transfer rules; and
3. Ask for permission to contact other institutions. If you are denied permission to contact other institutions to discuss a potential transfer, you have the right to an appeal.

Athletics Appeals Committee

The Athletics Appeals Committee has been established for those UNL student-athletes who have been denied the request to permit another four-year institution to contact them concerning a possible transfer. In addition, the Athletics Appeals Committee will also be available to student-athletes who have been denied the exception to transfer residence requirement.

If a student-athlete wants to appeal the decision of the Department of Athletics, the following procedures must take place:

1. The student-athlete must submit a written request to contact an institution(s) and/or the use of the one-time transfer exception if applicable. This written request must be submitted to the Assistant Athletic Director of Compliance. The Head Coach and Director of Athletics (if needed) will be notified and will direct if permission is to be granted or denied.

2. The Department of Athletics must respond to this request within seven business days of the receipt of the request. The response will be to either grant or deny the request. A delay in granting the request (e.g. delay until end of semester to have grades) is not permissible. If the Department of Athletics fails to respond within seven business days then permission to contact or the use of the one-time transfer exception will be granted.

3. If a student-athlete is denied permission to contact and/or the use of the one-time transfer exception and wants to have a hearing, the student-athlete must submit in writing to the Chair of the Athletics Appeals Committee a request for an appeals board hearing within seven business days of the original notification date.

4. An appeals board meeting date will be established by the “Athletics Transfer Appeals Committee,” which consists of (1) UNL representative to the NCAA and Big Ten Conference; (2) Chair of the Faculty Intercollegiate Athletics Committee, or his or her designee; (3) President of Student-Athlete Advisory Committee of his or her designee; (4) Assistant Vice Chancellor, Student Affairs; (5) Faculty/Staff member; (6) Two at-large members; a student-athlete and one Faculty/Staff member.

5. Minutes will be kept of the meeting, and the student-athlete will have the opportunity to explain his or her situation and express their concerns.

6. The Department of Athletics/coach will be asked to prepare a written and/or verbal report indicating basis for the denial.

7. The Athletics Appeals Committee will caucus following the hearing to determine the outcome of the appeal.

8. The decision of the Athletics Appeal Committee will be sent from the Chair of the Committee to the student-athlete, the Director of Athletics, the Compliance staff and the Head Coach.

9. The hearing and decision notification will be completed within 15 business days of the student-athlete’s request for a hearing.

NCAA RULES AND REGULATIONS

The Husker baseball team won its first conference title in 12 years in 2017, winning the Big Ten with a 16-7-1 record.
Student-Athlete Eligibility
The Student-Athlete Annual NCAA Rules Compliance meeting is conducted for each team before the beginning of intercollegiate competition. You will need to provide information about your non-athletic financial aid, academic year/summer employment, housing information, automobile registration and participation in outside competition. Prior to competing, you must complete required NCAA, Big Ten and UNL forms.

Once certified, you must meet NCAA requirements that pertain to your academic and athletic eligibility.

Big Ten Conference

Big Life. Big Stage. Big Ten.
The Big Ten Conference is comprised of world-class academic institutions that share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference’s 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes’ lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

Big Ten universities provide more than $200 million in direct financial aid to more than 9,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 28 championships, 14 for men and 14 for women. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with 350 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.

Team Travel
Your head coach will review the standards for team conduct that you should observe when you travel with your team. Specific requirements for dress, individual conduct, curfews and free-time activities will be discussed.

Regardless of your sport, the Athletics Department does not allow student-athletes to use alcohol, tobacco or drugs at any time while representing their teams at home or on trips away from campus.

Missed Classes
You may occasionally miss classes to participate in athletic events. In general, faculty members are understanding, provided that students inform them prior to travel and as early as possible about anticipated absences. Communication from the student-athlete to the faculty is key.

At the beginning of each semester, review the syllabus requirements and give each of your professors a copy of the “missed class” letter, your schedule of missed classes and your competition schedule.

As a Member of a Husker Team

As a member of the Big Ten Conference, the University of Nebraska fields and plays host to many of the nation’s finest NCAA teams. Nebraska offers intercollegiate athletic opportunities for men and women in the following 24 sports:

Women:
- Basketball
- Bowling
- Cross Country
- Golf
- Gymnastics
- Rifle
- Beach Volleyball
- Soccer
- Softball
- Swimming & Diving
- Tennis
- Track & Field (indoor)
- Track & Field (outdoor)
- Volleyball

Men:
- Baseball
- Basketball
- Cross Country
- Football
- Gymnastics
- Golf
- Tennis
- Track & Field (indoor)
- Track & Field (outdoor)
- Wrestling

Review the course schedule with your professor and discuss any possible conflicts with exams, projects or papers. Make sure you understand your professor’s requirements. Each professor will determine how you will make up missed work. Do not assume that all professors will follow the same make-up policy. If you experience any difficulties in working out a schedule for makeup work, contact your academic counselor immediately.

If your class instructor requires additional documentation of your team travel, request a letter from your academic counselor at least one week in advance of the trip.

You should also reconfirm your absence with your professors at least a week prior to departure. At that time, arrange to make up missed course work that results from traveling with your team.
Because your physical well-being is essential to your success, both as a student and as an athlete, the Department of Athletics feels a strong responsibility to help you reach and maintain your optimum health.

Medical Emergency

Dial 911 for all life-threatening injuries and remain on the line until EMS arrives.

Physical Exams

All incoming freshmen and transfer student-athletes are required to complete a medical history and have a physical exam performed by athletic medicine staff before participating in the athletic program. The physical exam includes lab testing and an ECG.

The physical exam process concludes with a “BEEP” test. This test is a phased ambulatory exercise which provides an assessment of exercise tolerance.

All upperclassmen will complete a medical questionnaire at the start of the fall semester, to ensure their medical information is kept current, and any conditions needing further evaluation are assessed.

After arrival at Nebraska, all student-athletes receive a copy of the “NCAA Concussion Fact Sheet for Student-Athletes.” During pre-participation physicals, all student-athletes are asked to provide their personal history of head injury and concussions, a neurological baseline and balance test is performed and a signed shared responsibility statement is required.

Care of Injuries and Illness

Student-athletes are provided contact information to reach the assigned athletic trainer for their sport, and must report all injuries or illness promptly.

A physician-staffed medical clinic is available during the school year in the Osborne Complex Athletic Medicine Center. No appointment is necessary.

The phone number for the Osborne Complex Athletic Medicine Center Training Room is 472-2276. The main training room is open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday during the academic year. Summer hours will be posted.

Student-athletes needing orthopaedic consultation are seen by a Team Orthopaedic Physician in afternoon clinic or at a time set by the athletic trainer.

Referrals

When the medical staff encounters a condition that would benefit by evaluation and or treatment through referral to a specialist, the athletic trainer or team physician will assist in scheduling the appointment. If transportation is needed, an athletic trainer will make the necessary arrangements.

In the event a scheduled appointment cannot be kept, the student-athlete must contact the athletic trainer in advance to cancel or reschedule the appointment. Some offices charge for missed appointments if notice has not been received within 24 hours of the scheduled time. Athletic Medicine is not allowed to pay for missed appointments.

Mental Health Services

The Athletic Department provides mental health counseling through a team of expert psychiatrists, psychologists and counselors. Services are provided on site in the Department of Athletic Medicine and can be accessed by contacting the Director of Athletic Medicine at 472-9859. Mental Health Counseling is highly confidential. Records are maintained separate from the student-athlete’s general medical record.

The athletic training room in North Stadium has two anti-gravity treadmills, allowing student-athletes to recover quicker from injuries and return to action.
Covered Expenses
Medical expenses that are due to injury or illness sustained by a student-athlete as a direct result of practice or participation in intercollegiate athletics at any time during the year will be covered by our insurance program.

UNL Athletic Medicine coverage is considered secondary, or excess, and the student-athlete’s personal or parental insurance is considered primary. The student-athlete must first present the claim to their primary insurance company. After the primary insurer has paid on the allowable charges, the University’s insurance will pay the remaining charges.

At no time will the student-athletes or their parents sustain any expenses if the injury is a direct result of participation in their sport.

A copy of the explanation of benefits and/or any statement showing outstanding balances must be sent to the Department of Athletics for final payment. This information must be provided in a timely manner (within 30 days of receipt of the statement).

The training room is to be utilized for all athletic related treatments. All related medical bills and prescription expenses must be approved for payment by the Director of Athletic Medicine or Head Athletic Trainer in accordance with Department of Athletics and NCAA regulations.

The Department of Athletics does not assume any financial responsibility for medical treatment obtained without a referral from a team physician or by the head athletic trainer.

The Department of Athletics may consider payment for certain medical conditions not resulting from athletic participation when treatments are deemed necessary for the student-athlete to compete. These medical expenses are reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

It is strongly advised that all student-athletes have medical insurance coverage. For those not covered under their parents’ insurance plan, a student insurance plan is available. Details are provided on the UNL.edu website.

Drug Testing
Annually the athletic compliance and athletic medicine staffs conduct NCAA, Big Ten and institutional drug testing information meetings. The provisions of these programs, notification policies, educational programming, and consequences for violations of the policies are explained in these meetings. For the most current list of banned substances and NCAA drug testing policies visit: http://go.unl.edu/drugtesting. Any questions you have regarding drug testing should be directed to your athletic trainer or the athletic medicine staff at 472-2276.
Five Fundamentals of Performance Nutrition

1) Fuel Your Tank and Keep It Filled
Failing to meet calorie/energy needs will decrease performance and could result in significant physiological changes. Ensure you are consuming enough calories every day for the energy to maximize each practice, lifting, or conditioning session. Doing so will result in getting faster, stronger, and gaining an edge over your opponent.

2) Hydration
Dehydration will hinder your performance, leaving you feeling fatigued and can limit your recovery from training. Signs include fatigue, dry/cotton mouth, increased rate of perceived exertion, dizziness, nauseous, shaking, inability to focus, and overall decrease in performance and skills.

- Daily: Drink half roughly your body weight in ounces of fluids (water, milk, tea, coffee, juice, broth...all fluids count toward hydration). Drink enough so that your urine is a light lemonade color.
- Training: Drink 24-oz. of fluid for every pound lost during training.

3) Nutrient Timing and Consistency
Proper nutrient timing is essential for restoring the fuel stores in your muscles and starting the recovery process. Plan meals and snacks around your workout and practice times: try to eat something 1-2 hours before training and within 45 minutes after exercise. Consistency is also key to recovery and maintaining energy levels through the day. Avoid going long periods of time without eating. Eating smaller amounts more frequently will aid muscle recovery, replenish carbohydrate stores, and improve body composition and strength gains. Be prepared - always carry a snack with you: bar, fruit, jerky, nuts/trail mix.

4) Quality is Key - Keeping it Balanced and Varied
Build your meals and snacks around the Four Steps. This balance is key to ensure you are getting the nutrients your body needs to maximize your performance. Choosing foods with QUALITY calories fight inflammation and promote cellular adaptations from training. High quality foods are those that provide numerous vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants for their calorie amount.

- Step 1: Fruits, vegetables, nuts, and seeds - provide key vitamins, minerals, antioxidants and healthy fats.
- Step 2: Carbohydrates - breads, grains, cereals, pasta and starchy vegetables provide key carbohydrates needed during training, practice, and competition.

- Step 3: Lean meats, dairy products, and beans - provide the protein and amino acids needed by muscles for recovery and rebuilding.
- Step 4: Healthy Fats - essential for proper functioning of your body. Provides energy, keeps body insulated, needed for cell functioning and necessary for the body to absorb vitamins A, D, E and K.

5) Food First/Supplementation
Certain supplements can aid in athletic performance. However, the supplement industry is loosely regulated and amongst the thousands of supplements available, only a few are effective and are of high quality. Please check with a sports dietitian prior to taking any type of supplement to ensure safety and legality. Remember - food is the foundation. Supplements only complement a solid diet.
The Department of Athletics has established a comprehensive strength and conditioning program to improve performance and lessen the possibility of injury. The strength and conditioning staff provides the best program available while maintaining the highest safety standards. The department has three weight rooms available for use by student-athletes. The Ndumukong Suh Strength Complex (472-3333) is located in the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex. The Alloy Strength Complex is located inside the Hawks Championship Center. The Hendricks Training Complex (472-1403) is located at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

All intercollegiate athletic teams have a strength and conditioning program designed specifically for the rigors of their individual sport. Each program addresses mobility, conditioning, strength, power, speed and body composition on an individual, team-member basis. These programs are then carried out under the direction of the certified strength and conditioning staff. Individual and team assessments are carried out periodically during the year.

A schedule of use for weight room facilities may be arranged through and at the discretion of the Head Strength Coach assigned to each sport. At no time will scheduling of individual time supersede team use of the facilities.

Work Environment

The work that takes place in the weight room is serious in nature. All student-athletes who use the strength and conditioning facilities should do so productively. You should arrive at your scheduled time, obtain your workout program, and go through the session with a positive attitude and a minimal waste of time. Approach your workout session as an opportunity to improve yourself so you can perform better at your sport.

Safety

Safety in the strength and conditioning facilities depends upon following facility rules. Always think cautiously when performing any exercise. The weight rooms were established so you would have the opportunity to become stronger and more injury resistant. Injuries should not occur in the weight room.

Spotters serve two basic purposes: (1) To motivate or encourage you to give it your all and (2) to supervise your workout in order to make it safe for you. Always have someone spot you when performing any exercise. The spotter should be prepared to assist the lifter when the weight cannot be raised.

Be aware of other people around when performing any exercise. If people are in the way, there is always the possibility of dropping a weight on them or hitting them with a barbell. On machine exercises, make sure a spotter has his/her hands clear of the machine before beginning to exercise. If an injury should occur, immediately contact the nearest strength coach.

Weight Room Policies

Note: To all persons using University of Nebraska Weight Rooms. These rooms are provided to improve the performance of Nebraska athletes. The following rules are presented so the weight rooms will remain clean, neat and ready for athletes to safely use the equipment. Your cooperation is appreciated.

1. No student-athlete is allowed to lift until they have medical clearance. Guests must sign a waiver.
2. Student-athletes are required to use collars once there is any weight on the bar.
3. Student-athletes should show respect at all times; spitting in or defacing the facility is not tolerated, horseplay, loud, offensive language, or temper tantrums are not permitted.
4. The staff offices and telephones are off limits to student-athletes.
5. Everyone should wear proper adidas training attire.
6. Student-athletes should utilize spotters when necessary.
7. Immediately report any facility-related injury or facility/equipment irregularity to the supervisors on duty.
8. The Nebraska Strength and Conditioning Department is not responsible for users’ personal belongings or lost or stolen items.
9. Equipment is not to leave the Nebraska Strength and Conditioning facilities without permission from the Strength and Conditioning staff.
10. The on-duty supervisors have the authority over all weight room conduct and use of equipment and may expel a student-athlete from the facility for failure to follow instructions.

Nebraska Unions
The facilities operated by the Nebraska Unions on City and East Campuses are full-service community centers designed for use by everyone at the University: students, faculty, staff, alumni and visitors.

The Nebraska Union on City Campus, 472-2181, offers study and television lounges, offices for student organizations, the UNL computer store, meeting rooms, dining areas with complete food services (including a food court), a bakery, a bank, a game room, a bookstore, copy center services, and the student part-time employment office. A 50,000 square-foot addition, completed in 1999, features an auditorium, additional lounge and food court space, new meeting rooms, an art gallery, and a 24-hour computer lab and copy center.

The Nebraska East Union, 472-1776, on East Campus offers similar services to those available in the Nebraska Union, including a branch of the bookstore. The East Union also offers bowling, which is not available on City Campus.

The Women’s Center
The Women’s Center (340 Nebraska Union) provides resources, support services and a welcoming environment for people who want to understand the changing roles of women and men. Resources include a video and book library, plus events that will help students fulfill many class requirements. We offer individual and group counseling for many issues. Special services are provided for victims of relationship violence, sexual assault and stalking. For general information call 472-2597; to reach the Victim Advocate call 472-0203.

UNL Writing Center
Writer’s block? Not quite sure how to write that paper? Need help with a resume? Writing fiction or poetry? Get help from the Writing Assistance Center.

Information about location and hours can be found on the web at unl.edu/writing. The Student Life Complex has a satellite location. For information about hours, contact Kim Schellpeper at kschellpeper@huskers.com.

Centers for the Performing Arts
Kimball Recital Hall, on City Campus at 11th & R streets, serves as the home for UNL School of Music’s concerts and recitals by faculty, students and guest artists. Kimball Recital Hall is acoustically outstanding, and with 850 seats is one of the finest concert halls in the Midwest.

The Lied Center for Performing Arts serves as a focus for the performing arts in Nebraska. The Lied, located at 12th & R streets, includes a 2,278-seat auditorium designed to stage major musical, theatrical and entertainment events, presented by regional, national and international touring companies.

The Temple Building has been the home of theater at UNL since 1907. All theater classes, as well as the administrative office and performance spaces of the Department of Theatre Arts, are here. Dance classes and dance faculty are located in Mabel Lee Hall. University Theatre and University Dance produce six to eight major events each year in the facility’s two theaters, Howell and Studio (dance concerts are also staged in Mabel Lee Hall and Kimball Hall).

Museums and Galleries
Sheldon Museum of Art and Sculpture Garden, 472-2461, designed by the internationally acclaimed architect Philip Johnson, is one of the nation’s most respected university art museums. The gallery’s permanent collection features over 12,000 objects that document the development of American art from the 18th century to the present. The gallery offers special exhibitions from around the world and has a two-acre outdoor sculpture garden, containing more than 30 sculptures. The 300-seat auditorium in the Gallery is used for exhibition-related programs, public lectures and concerts. The Sheldon Museum of Art is open year-round and does not have an admission fee.

The University of Nebraska State Museum, located in Morrill Hall, contains over 10 million specimens and houses interpretative displays of Nebraska’s geologic, natural and cultural history.

The Center for Great Plains Studies Art Collection, located in Hewit Place, 1155 Q St., provides a unique western art collection.

The Lentz Center for Asian Culture, also located in Hewit Place, is dedicated to enrichment of knowledge and understanding of Asia, primarily through exhibitions of Oriental art, of authentic ethnographic objects and of artifacts.

The Eisentraeger/Howard Gallery consists of three gallery spaces in the central core of the main floor of newly remodeled Richards Hall, just south of Memorial Stadium. The Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery, located in the Home Economics building on East Campus, is dedicated to exhibition of textiles – from art to apparel.

Visitors Center and Film Theaters
The Van Brunt Visitors Center and Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center, 472-9800, are located in a magnificent building at 13th and R streets.

The Visitors Center offers resources and information for visitors to the UNL campus, and is utilized extensively for recruiting new students by the UNL Office of Admissions. It is a starting point for campus tours and a meeting place for students.

The Media Arts Center offers daily movies on two screens with the state-of-the-art sound and projection. It is known as one of the finest venues in the country for independent film.
